

old age. Dalkowski simply dropped off the radar, or so it seems.

Monroe? Everybody knows that story.

How they souped-up the ball,

lowered the mound,

reduced the strike zone,

suspended pitchers for throwing at hitters,

brought in the fences,

yes, they brought in the fences.

Everybody knows that story.