- (1) For comparability purposes, the Company is presenting adjusted loss from continuing operations attributable to common shareholders because it facilitates the evaluation of the Company's underlying operating performance without the effect of adjustments that do not directly relate to that performance. Adjusted loss from continuing operations attributable to common shareholders should not be considered as an alternative to loss from continuing operations attributable to common shareholders (computed in accordance with GAAP). Instead, adjusted loss from continuing operations attributable to common shareholders should be reviewed in connection with loss from continuing operations attributable to common shareholders in the Company's consolidated financial statements, to help analyze how the Company's business is performing.
- (2) Loss from commercial finance operations consists of revenues and expenses from commercial finance operations (including gains or losses from the sale of leases and loans, gain on extinguishment of servicing and repurchase liabilities, provision for credit losses and depreciation and amortization) net of applicable tax benefits and noncontrolling interests.
