

Attention Leasing Sales Professionals – The Ultimate Leasing Sales Environment has been created to help take your leasing career to the next level – HIGH BACK OFFICE SUPPORT & HIGH COMMISSIONS plus SUPERIOR TRAINING!

Could you double or even triple your funding volume if you had a high level of support and access to a broader range of funding sources? What if you could spend more time on the phone prospecting new business and less time processing paperwork?

Our company was designed by a top producer for top producers. What was created is the ultimate leasing sales environment!

Now imagine a sales environment with sophisticated, high-level, college-degreed support. A place with state of the art technology at your finger tips that includes an automatic dialing system integrated with a CRM system. Complete online access allowing the sales person remote capabilities anywhere there's an internet connection. A place with the ability to get all transactions done, including highly structured. Access to more than 77 exclusive funding lines, including major banks, private investors, and non-traditional financial institutions. That dream environment is our office!

Most companies offer little support with high commission, or high support with low commission. The best of the best sales people deserve high support and high commission. And that is what we offer.

We are looking to work with "A" Players only, defined as professionals with good character, work ethic, intelligence, values, and a dedication to fulfilling commitments.
